

Connected and Respectful Tasmania Pledge Guidelines

A simple way for organisations, businesses, governments, community groups and individuals to take the first step toward a more connected and respectful Tasmania.

Welcome to the pledge

Every action, big or small, helps build a more connected and respectful Tasmania. Making a pledge is one simple way to show your commitment to the areas for action identified by the Tasmanian community through the Connected and Respectful Tasmania initiative.

This Pledge Pack is designed to make getting involved easy. It is not about creating extra pressure or requiring a large commitment. It is about choosing one or more practical actions that feel achievable and meaningful for you, your organisation, your business, your agency, your community group or your household.

What does making a pledge mean?

Making a pledge means committing to take action in one or more of the six Connected and Respectful Tasmania areas for action. Your action can be small, practical and suited to your capacity.

- Pledging is voluntary.
- You can choose one area or several areas for action.

The six areas for action

The areas are listed below, with links to more detail.

- Fair access to services and support
- Inclusion for everyone
- Places to meet and ways to connect
- Power in communities
- Social connection and belonging
- A foundation of wellbeing

Make your pledge

To make your pledge, you can complete this short and simple form.

As part of the pledge, you can choose to be added to our list of supporters so that everyone can see the commitment you have made. This is optional.

Pledging is enough

Making a pledge is a meaningful contribution. If this is the only step you take right now, it still matters. There is no requirement to do more.

If you want to do more

If you would like more ideas, resources or inspiration, you can visit the Connected and Respectful Tasmania website. The website may include action ideas, stories, resources, events and further opportunities to connect with the initiative.

We also welcome opportunities to partner or support actions and activities. If you have an idea you'd like to discuss, please reach out community@reltas.com.au

Optional recognition materials

You may choose to recognise or share your pledge publicly, but this is optional. Once you have made your pledge, we will reach out with a package of materials you are welcome to use to spread the word and encourage others to join the initiative. This will include:

- A poster/window sign.
- A social media tile.
- Suggested wording for announcing your pledge.

Frequently asked questions

Who can make a pledge?

Organisations, businesses, governments, community groups and individuals can make a pledge.

Do I have to take action in all six areas?

No. You can choose one area or several areas.

How big does my action need to be?

Your action can be small, practical and achievable. Small actions still matter.

What if I can only make a small commitment?

That is enough. Making a pledge is a meaningful contribution.

Do I need to report back?

No, however we do love to highlight and amplify the great work that is being done around Tasmania, so if you would like to send us some information about what you are doing to respond to the areas for action, along with some photos or videos, we will gladly share it. You can send updates to community@reltas.com.au

Does my pledge expire?

Not automatically, but if you are no longer able to commit to action, please let us know by emailing community@reltas.com.au
